INTRO.

1. There's a pair of charming girls down the street, A hand-some blonde and
2. When this pair of cul-tured girls sing and play The lat-est songs and p bru-nette ver-y swell and neat, In col-ors mil-i-taire, There's march-es, you will hear folks say, "No won-der they de-light men, They none on earth so fair, For they're the fash-ion plates of town;..... They're charm all those who hear them, For they're the i-deal girls of town;..... They're col-lege grad-u-ates and girls of the bon-ton, The kind that chap-pies plungers at the ra-ces and they oft-en win, They'll spend their mon-ey rave a-bout and spend coin on; They've been to gay Pa-ree and all free with you if you stand in; They al-ways wear a smile and you pla-ces of re-nown, Their style and fig-ures are the talk of town..... nev-er see them frown, These girls are win-ners and the talk of town.....

The Talk of the Town. 3-2.

The Favorite Everywhere: "Dolly O'Day."
The Prettiest Waltz Song Out.

CHORUS.

As down the street on chainless wheels they ride, A pair of beau-ties, rid - ing side by side,

How the men all stare, They are be-yond com-pare, For they're the swellest girls in town,.... They oft - en go out with young men at night, And rid - ing tan - dem they look out of sight; These dashing girls like sport, But not the wicked sort, They are the rage and talk of the town.....

The Talk of the Town. 3-3.

The Hit of the Season: "Some One's Sister."
(Descriptive Ballad.)
